

GUIDANCE/PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES

The primary purposes of guidance and counseling services are as follows:

- A. Counselors will assist each individual student in realizing the student's potential in scholastic pursuits, relationships with other people, occupational choices and a citizen's role.
- B. Counselors will help teachers discover the interests, needs, and abilities of students, so that in teaching and daily contacts with students, teachers may work more effectively in supporting the development of every student. These services will be provided in elementary grades and middle and senior high schools by specialized personnel in cooperation with the teachers.

Parents desiring supportive counseling services may choose from any number of qualified private counseling services in the Edmond area. The Edmond Family Services offers counseling on a sliding scale.
