Policy #4800, II

In order to promote safety in the classroom and maintain an atmosphere conducive to learning, to the extent not prohibited by law, when a student with a history or pattern of documented violent behavior which is known by the administration is placed in a classroom, the teachers that have direct contact with that student shall be notified by the administration. When possible, the notification shall be made prior to the first day the student attends the class.

For purposes of this policy, "violent behavior" is defined as documented activity by a student which was directed at students, adults, or themselves and which involved either: 1) dangerous weapons, 2) sexual misconduct, 3) assaults, or 4) threats. The violent behavior must have resulted in adjudication of the student as a minor, conviction of the student of a crime, long-term suspensions, or multiple short-term suspensions.

Only counselors, administrators, and teachers with direct contact with such students will have access to this information. Such information shall be maintained in the strictest confidentiality by all such teachers, counselors and administration and shall only be divulged as required by law
